

Privacy Policy for www.vigel.com

Art. 13-14 Reg. UE 2016/679

Providing information regarding our Privacy Policy is a general obligation to be fulfilled before, or at the latest, upon the direct collection of personal data. As far as personal data not collected directly from the interested party is concerned, the information must be provided within a reasonable time, or at the time of communication (not of recording) of data (to the interested party or to third parties). In accordance with the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR – Reg. (UE) 2016/769), this organization, the data controller, provides the following information:

SOURCES AND CATEGORIES OF PERSONAL DATA

The personal data our organization stores are collected directly from the interested parties. This website does not collect sensitive data, which includes information that would reveal the subject's racial or ethnic origin, religious and philosophical beliefs, political affiliations, membership to syndicates, associations or organizations of a religious, philosophical or political nature, health conditions and sex life.

Browsing Data

The computer systems and software procedures used to operate the website acquire, during their normal functioning, some personal information that is implicitly transmitted in the use of Internet communication protocols. Such information is not collected to be associated with identified interested parties, but they could, because of their very nature, allow users to be identified through processing and association with data stored by third parties. This category of data includes IP addresses or domain names of the computers used by users accessing the website, addresses in the Uniform Resource Identifier (URI) notation of the requested resources, the time of the request, the method used to submit the request to the server, the size of the file obtained in response, the numerical code indicating the status of the response given by the server (success, error, etc.) and other parameters relating to the operating system and the user's computer environment. These data are used for the sole purpose of obtaining anonymous statistical information on the website's use, and to check its correct functioning, and are deleted immediately after processing. The data could be used to ascertain liability in the event of hypothetical computer crimes against the website.

Profiling Data

Profiling data on the consumer's habits or consumption choices are not directly acquired. However, it is possible for such information to be acquired from autonomous or separate subjects through links or embedding elements from third parties. See the section of third-party cookies for more information.

Cookies

Like others, this website saves cookies on the user's browser of choice for the transmission of personal information and to enhance the experience. In fact, cookies are small text files that the websites visited by the user send to their terminal (usually to the browser), where they are stored, sometimes even with characteristics of wide temporal persistence, to be then retransmitted to the same websites on the following visit.

As explained below, it is possible to choose whether cookies are accepted or not and, if so, which cookies to accept, bearing in mind that refusing their use may affect the ability to perform certain transactions on the website, the accuracy and adequacy of some customizable content presented, and the ability to recognize the user from one visit to the following one. If no choice is made in this regard, the default settings will be applied, and all cookies will be activated. However, the user may communicate their decisions or make any changes in this regard at any time.

Technical Cookies

Session cookies, which are not stored permanently on the user's computer and disappear when the browser is closed, are used in particular. Their use is strictly limited to the transmission of session identifiers (consisting of random numbers generated by the server) necessary to allow the safe and efficient browsing of the website, which avoid the use of other technologies that could compromise the privacy of the user's browsing, and do not allow the acquisition of personal identification data. Cookie analytics are also used, which help to understand how visitors interact with the website's contents, collecting information (geographic and web origin, technology used, language, sites of entry and exit, browsing time, etc.) and generating website usage statistics without personal identification of individual visitors. All these are to be considered technical cookies for which, as it is not necessary to give consent, the opt-out mechanism is in force. Technical cookies are not disclosed to third parties as either necessary or useful for website's functioning; therefore, they are processed only by system administrators or by qualified individuals responsible for data processing.

Third-party Cookies

Finally, the site incorporates cookies and other elements (tags, pixels, etc.) from third parties (autonomous and for which the controller is not liable) that also perform profiling activities. For further information, the user may refer to their respective websites:

- there are no third-party cookies

Data provided voluntarily by the user

The optional, explicit and voluntary sending of electronic mail to the addresses indicated on the website entails the subsequent acquisition of the sender's e-mail address, necessary to respond to inquiries, as well as any other personal data included in the e-mail. The explicit and voluntary sending of the forms that can be filled in on the website containing the user's data also entails processing to comply with the pre-contractual obligations and the fulfillment of the services provided by sending the forms. Such information in the forms may concern personal data, contact details, telephone numbers, e-mail addresses of the interested parties, and those of identified and identifiable third parties. Nevertheless, specific summary information prepared for on-request services will be progressively reported or displayed on the website.

PURPOSE AND LEGAL BASIS FOR DATA PROCESSING

Personal data are used (art. 6(b) of the GDPR):

- a) to allow website browsing and
- b) if necessary, to provide the service or performance requested related to the organization's regular activity (NACE 28.4 Manufacture of machines for metal forming and other machine tools).

Furthermore, all personal data can be processed:

- c) for purposes related to obligations established by law, as well as by provisions issued by authorities legitimized by law (see articles 6 (c) and 9 (b, g, h) of the GDPR);
- d) for the assessment, exercise or defense of a right in court and out-of-court (legitimate interest) of the organization (see articles 6 (f) and 9 (f) of the GDPR);
- e) for direct marketing purposes according to the legitimate interests of the controller, in particular: cookies; advertising ID's used to display advertisements and ads; e-mail addresses for the sending of newsletters; browsing and usage logs to protect the website and service from cyber-attacks; in these cases, the interested party may always refuse consent so that the data controller will abstain from processing these data (see Article 6 (f) of the GDPR);
- f) for purposes functional to activities for which the interested party has the right to express or deny consent, such as the subscription to the newsletter to receive informational and promotional messages for products and services, the measurement of user satisfaction, and the transmission of data to third parties to receive informational, promotional, and marketing communication (GDPR art.6 (a))

CONSEQUENCES OF REFUSAL TO CONFER DATA

The provision of data collected from the interested party is optional, yet essential for their processing for the aforementioned purposes expressed in letters a) and b). In the event that the interested parties do not provide indispensable data, it will not be possible to proceed with the fulfillment and implementation of the proposed services and to follow the undertaken contractual obligations, with consequent prejudice for the compliance of regulations pertaining to accounting, fiscal, and administrative obligations, etc.

Apart from what was specified for browsing data, the user is free to provide personal data for cookies and specific requests via forms, e.g. on products and/or services. Failure to provide such data may make it impossible to satisfy the request. For all non-essential data, conferment is optional. In the absence of consent, or incomplete or incorrect conferment of certain data, including those of sensitive nature, the fulfillment of obligations may be so incomplete as to cause prejudice either in terms of penalties or loss of benefits, due to either the impossibility of ensuring the adequacy of the processing itself in accordance with the obligations for which it is performed, or to the possible mismatch of the results of the processing itself with the obligations imposed by the law that requires them, exonerating our organization from any and all liability for any possible sanctions or punitive measures.

METHODS OF DATA PROCESSING

Processing related to the website's services are processed with tools automated for the time strictly necessary to achieve the purposes for which they were collected. Data processing takes place at the US server (Godaddy.com) and is only handled by technical personnel in charge of processing, or by any individuals responsible for maintenance and administration. Specific security measures are observed to prevent data loss, illicit or incorrect use and unauthorized access, and loss of confidentiality. The structure is equipped with anti-intrusion devices, firewalls, logs and disaster recovery. Specific mechanisms of encryption and segregation of data, and authentication and authorization of users, are implemented.

Data processing refers to the collection, recording, organization, storage, processing, modification, cancellation and destruction of data, or the combination of two or more of these operations. In relation to the aforementioned purposes, personal data is processed using printed, computerized and telematic tools, including automated ones, to store and manage data, with logic strictly related to the purposes themselves and, in any case, to ensure security and confidentiality. Personal data will therefore be processed in compliance with the methods indicated in art. 5 EU Reg. 2016/679, which provides, inter alia, that the data are processed lawfully and fairly, collected and recorded for explicit and legitimate, exact, and if necessary updated, relevant, complete and not excessive purposes in relation to their processing, respecting the fundamental rights and freedoms, as well as the dignity of the interested party, with particular reference to privacy and personal identity, through measures of protection and security. Our organization has developed and will further improve the security system for accessing and storing data.

There is no automated decision-making process (e.g. profiling).

TRANSFER OF DATA OUTSIDE THE EU

Processing takes place in non-EU and non-EEA countries when access to the website comes from these countries (upon the request of the interested party located there). In addition, processing also takes place in non-EU and non-EEA countries where the website's servers reside as it is considered functional to the efficient fulfillment of the pursued purposes in compliance with the guarantees in favor of the interested parties. Below is a list of non-EU locations where data is transferred:

- ! North America
- ! Mexico
- ! India
- ! China

RETENTION PERIOD

Personal data will be stored, in general, for as long as the purposes for data processing continues according to the category to which the processed data belongs.

Personal data (only those of indispensable nature) are disclosed:

- to those in charge of processing, both internal to the organization of the controller, and external to it, who perform specific tasks and operations (website administration, analysis of browsing, traffic and profiling data, management of e-mails and forms sent voluntarily by the user, processing of e-commerce requests and orders, etc.)
- in cases and to subjects provided by law

CATEGORIES OF RECIPIENTS OF PERSONAL DATA

Data will not be subject to disclosure unless otherwise required by law, or rather, prior to anonymization. Except as specified for cookies and third-party elements, without the prior general consent of the interested party for disclosure to third parties, it will be possible to provide services that do not require such disclosure, exclusively. In necessary cases, specific and precise consent will be requested, and the recipients of the data will use them as autonomous controllers.

In some cases (not subject to the website's regular management) the Data Protection Authority may request news and information, for the purpose of monitoring the processing of personal data. In these cases, compliance is mandatory under penalty of administrative sanction.

RIGHTS OF THE DATA SUBJECT

The interested party may at any time: exercise their rights (access, rectification, cancellation, limitation, portability, opposition, or absence of automated decision-making processes) against the data controller, in accordance with art. 15 to 22 of the GDPR (shown below); present a complaint to the Data Protection Authority (www.garanteprivacy.it); if the processing is based on consent, revoke the consent given, taking into account that the withdrawal of consent does not affect the lawfulness of the processing based on consent before its revocation.

Disabling Cookies

In order to respect user preferences, almost all browsers offer the possibility to manage and disable cookies. In some browsers, it is possible to set rules to manage cookies from website to website, an option that offers a more precise control on the user's privacy. Incognito mode is another available function on some browsers, which causes all cookies stored in this mode to be deleted after its closing.

Consult the following instructions for managing cookies in the respective browsers:

- Chrome
- Firefox
- Internet Explorer
- Safari

REGULATION (EU) 2016/679 OF THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT AND OF THE COUNCIL of 27 April 2016
on the protection of natural persons with regard to the processing of personal data and on the free movement of such data, and repealing Directive 95/46/EC (General Data Protection Regulation)

Extract

Article 15
Right of access by the data subject

1. The data subject shall have the right to obtain from the controller confirmation as to whether or not personal data concerning him or her are being processed, and, where that is the case, access to the personal data and the following information:

- (a) the purposes of the processing;
- (b) the categories of personal data concerned;
- (c) the recipients or categories of recipient to whom the personal data have been or will be disclosed, in particular recipients in third countries or international organisations;
- (d) where possible, the envisaged period for which the personal data will be stored, or, if not possible, the criteria used to determine that period;
- (e) the existence of the right to request from the controller rectification or erasure of personal data or restriction of processing of personal data concerning the data subject or to object to such processing;
- (f) the right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority;
- (g) where the personal data are not collected from the data subject, any available information as to their source;
- (h) the existence of automated decision-making, including profiling, referred to in Article 22 (1) and (4) and, at least in those cases, meaningful information about the logic involved, as well as the significance and the envisaged consequences of such processing for the data subject.

2. Where personal data are transferred to a third country or to an international organisation, the data subject shall have the right to be informed of the appropriate safeguards pursuant to Article 46 relating to the transfer.

3. The controller shall provide a copy of the personal data undergoing processing. For any further copies requested by the data subject, the controller may charge a reasonable fee based on administrative costs. Where the data subject makes the request by electronic means, and unless otherwise requested by the data subject, the information shall be provided in a commonly used electronic form.

4. The right to obtain a copy referred to in paragraph 3 shall not adversely affect the rights and freedoms of others.

Section 3

Rectification and erasure

Article 16
Right to rectification

The data subject shall have the right to obtain from the controller without undue delay the rectification of inaccurate personal data concerning him or her. Taking into account the purposes of the processing, the data subject shall have the right to have incomplete personal data completed, including by means of providing a supplementary statement.

Article 17
Right to erasure ('right to be forgotten')

1. The data subject shall have the right to obtain from the controller the erasure of personal data concerning him or her without undue delay and the controller shall have the obligation to erase personal data without undue delay where one of the following grounds applies:

- (a) the personal data are no longer necessary in relation to the purposes for which they were collected or otherwise processed;
- (b) the data subject withdraws consent on which the processing is based according to point (a) of Article 6(1), or point (a) of Article 9(2), and where there is no other legal ground for the processing;

- (c) the data subject objects to the processing pursuant to Article 21(1) and there are no overriding legitimate grounds for the processing, or the data subject objects to the processing pursuant to Article 21(2);
- (d) the personal data have been unlawfully processed;
- (e) the personal data have to be erased for compliance with a legal obligation in Union or Member State law to which the controller is subject;
- (f) the personal data have been collected in relation to the offer of information society services referred to in Article 8(1).

2. Where the controller has made the personal data public and is obliged pursuant to paragraph 1 to erase the personal data, the controller, taking account of available technology and the cost of implementation, shall take reasonable steps, including technical measures, to inform controllers which are processing the personal data that the data subject has requested the erasure by such controllers of any links to, or copy or replication of, those personal data.

3. Paragraphs 1 and 2 shall not apply to the extent that processing is necessary:

- (a) for exercising the right of freedom of expression and information;
- (b) for compliance with a legal obligation which requires processing by Union or Member State law to which the controller is subject or for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest or in the exercise of official authority vested in the controller;
- (c) for reasons of public interest in the area of public health in accordance with points (h) and (i) of Article 9(2) as well as Article 9(3);
- (d) for archiving purposes in the public interest, scientific or historical research purposes or statistical purposes in accordance with Article 89(1) in so far as the right referred to in paragraph 1 is likely to render impossible or seriously impair the achievement of the objectives of that processing; or
- (e) for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims.

Article 18 Right to restriction of processing

1. The data subject shall have the right to obtain from the controller restriction of processing where one of the following applies:
  - (a) the accuracy of the personal data is contested by the data subject, for a period enabling the controller to verify the accuracy of the personal data;
  - (b) the processing is unlawful and the data subject opposes the erasure of the personal data and requests the restriction of their use instead;
  - (c) the controller no longer needs the personal data for the purposes of the processing, but they are required by the data subject for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims;
  - (d) the data subject has objected to processing pursuant to Article 21(1) pending the verification whether the legitimate grounds of the controller override those of the data subject.
2. Where processing has been restricted under paragraph 1, such personal data shall, with the exception of storage, only be processed with the data subject's consent or for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims or for the protection of the rights of another natural or legal person or for reasons of important public interest of the Union or of a Member State.
3. A data subject who has obtained restriction of processing pursuant to paragraph 1 shall be informed by the controller before the restriction of processing is lifted.

Article 19 Notification obligation regarding rectification or erasure of personal data or restriction of processing

The controller shall communicate any rectification or erasure of personal data or restriction of processing carried out in accordance with Article 16, Article 17(1) and Article 18 to each recipient to whom the personal data have been disclosed, unless this proves impossible or involves disproportionate effort. The controller shall inform the data subject about those recipients if the data subject requests it.

Right to data portability

1. The data subject shall have the right to receive the personal data concerning him or her, which he or she has provided to a controller, in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format and have the right to transmit those data to another controller without hindrance from the controller to which the personal data have been provided, where:

- (a) the processing is based on consent pursuant to point (a) of Article 6(1) or point (a) of Article 9(2) or on a contract pursuant to point (b) of Article 6(1); and
- (b) the processing is carried out by automated means.

2. In exercising his or her right to data portability pursuant to paragraph 1, the data subject shall have the right to have the personal data transmitted directly from one controller to another, where technically feasible.

3. The exercise of the right referred to in paragraph 1 of this Article shall be without prejudice to Article 17. That right shall not apply to processing necessary for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest or in the exercise of official authority vested in the controller.

4. The right referred to in paragraph 1 shall not adversely affect the rights and freedoms of others.

Section 4

Right to object and automated individual decision-making

Article 21 Right to object

1. The data subject shall have the right to object, on grounds relating to his or her particular situation, at any time to processing of personal data concerning him or her which is based on point (e) or (f) of Article 6(1), including profiling based on those provisions. The controller shall no longer process the personal data unless the controller demonstrates compelling legitimate grounds for the processing which override the interests, rights and freedoms of the data subject or for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims.

2. Where personal data are processed for direct marketing purposes, the data subject shall have the right to object at any time to processing of personal data concerning him or her for such marketing, which includes profiling to the extent that it is related to such direct marketing.

3. Where the data subject objects to processing for direct marketing purposes, the personal data shall no longer be processed for such purposes.

4. At the latest at the time of the first communication with the data subject, the right referred to in paragraphs 1 and 2 shall be explicitly brought to the attention of the data subject and shall be presented clearly and separately from any other information.

5. In the context of the use of information society services, and notwithstanding Directive 2002/58/EC, the data subject may exercise his or her right to object by automated means using technical specifications.

6. Where personal data are processed for scientific or historical research purposes or statistical purposes pursuant to Article 89(1), the data subject, on grounds relating to his or her particular situation, shall have the right to object to processing of personal data concerning him or her, unless the processing is necessary for the performance of a task carried out for reasons of public interest.

Article 22 Automated individual decision-making, including profiling

1. The data subject shall have the right not to be subject to a decision based solely on automated processing, including profiling, which produces legal effects concerning him or her or similarly significantly affects him or her.

2. Paragraph 1 shall not apply if the decision:

- (a) is necessary for entering into, or performance of, a contract between the data subject and a data controller;
- (b) is authorised by Union or Member State law to which the controller is subject and which also lays down suitable measures to safeguard the data subject's rights and freedoms and legitimate interests; or
- (c) is based on the data subject's explicit consent.

3. In the cases referred to in points (a) and (c) of paragraph 2, the data controller shall implement suitable measures to safeguard the data subject's rights and freedoms and legitimate interests, at least the right to obtain human intervention on the part of the controller, to express his or her point of view and to contest the decision.

4. Decisions referred to in paragraph 2 shall not be based on special categories of personal data referred to in Article 9(1), unless point (a) or (g) of Article 9(2) applies and suitable measures to safeguard the data subject's rights and freedoms and legitimate interests are in place.
